LAST MINUTE CHANGES: When we start listing the names of Workshoppers -- and staff members -- we know the final revision will see some changes. We now know that: Dr. Earl English, dean of the School of Journalism, will not be able to be with us tonight. He does plan, however, to be with us before the week is over. We know, too, that because of pressing assignments, staffer Russ Lee will arrive a day or two late, and Milt Freier, (E. Leitz, Inc.), because of unforeseen developments, probably will not be with us at all. We are sorry for these changes -- but the show will go on as usual. This year's staff, larger than in previous years, "will get the Workshop off to a fine start" -- will keep it moving until the final bell.

You are guests of Harry Naeter amd the Southeast Missourian at tonight's dinner. Here you will meet him and a lot of other citizens of Cape Girardeau. Here, too, for the first time you will see the Aurora Picture Story. We know you will enjoy the evening.
